Wild hogs destroy agricultural crops and native habitats. A wild hog is a voracious eater and will eat just about anything. Studies have shown that 85 to 98 percent of the native species of plants can be destroyed by the hog's feeding and rooting behavior. They have been shown to out-compete other species of wildlife for hard and soft mast crops and are notorious for destroying food plots planted for deer, turkey and other wildlife. In addition to wreaking havoc on native habitats, wild hogs cause thousands of dollars in damage each year to agriculture crops across the state. They need to go! Here is your chance to get paid to thin out the overpopulated and dangerous wild hog! And have fun while doing it!
